After a brief marriage in 1965, I was single for several years, until I married Harvey, in 1973. We lived in Salem until he went into an Emergency Medicine residency in Denver, where we lived for two years. We came back to Salem in 1978, and I had our son, Bill, that year.

We bought a house, with three acres, in Sisters and thought we would retire there, but my parents were in need of help and became obvious we could not leave Salem, so, with regret, we sold. My parents died eight years ago within two months of each other.

We have traveled, not as much as I would like. We bought a couple of acres, east of Salem, where we live with our two Portuguese Water Dogs, and love the property. Bill and his wife, Becky, live in Keizer, so we get to see our grandsons often and .... life is good!
