After SSSHS, I went to Columbia in NYC (A.B. in 1967), then on to Stanford (Ph.D. in 1971). I met a fellow grad student, Wilma King, we were married in Philadelphia in 1969. We moved to New Jersey in 1971 where I started my career at Hoffman-La Roche as a research chemist and Wilma became a professor at Rutgers. I moved to biotech after 26 years with Roche and am now CEO of a company I co-founded in the Princeton area. Our lives have been amazing.

We have had great careers and our son, Andrew (born in 1974), has given us four grandchildren and an extended new family. We've had the good fortune to travel a lot for business, but have also spent many vacations in Oregon at Sunriver and the Coast.

We enjoy being on the East Coast and having all that New York offers less than one hour away from our home in Mountainside. We enjoy concerts, opera, gardening, reading and family activities as well as our travels.
