Husband: Roy Davidson (SSHS '63)

Roy and I recently celebrated our 47th anniversary. We retired in 2000 and moved to a little town, Carbondale, located on the Western Slope of Colorado between Glenwood Springs and Aspen.

We both attended the University of Oregon, and I achieved a master's degree as a stay-at-home mom and active volunteer. Roy worked for a number of oil refining, marketing and trading companies, including Shell, Mohawk, Getty, Texaco and Equiva Trading Company.

We are enjoying the healthy, active lifestyle in our small town. I am active in our church, volunteer in the community, and love crafts, primarily quilting now. I "retired" from skiing this past season. Roy is also active in our church, volunteers in our community as well, enjoys downhill skiing in the winter, hiking and road biking in the spring, summer and fall. We also like traveling around the US to visit kids, grandkids and friends as well as traveling abroad. Our children and grandchildren live in Missouri, Oregon and California. The oldest graduated high school in May and the youngest will soon be three.

We will not be attending the reunion. However, we hope everyone has a happy and healthy life going forward.
